

Rest

Time and breath
slows down.

A Bright light appears with a beautiful aura.

The soul transcends
outside of the body.

It is Judgement Day.

It finds peace in the afterlife.

Death occurs in everything,
a natural process of time.

It's scary to imagine it yourself,
however it is fine.

There is another life beyond the current,
a spirit who lives within you.

It leaves your body and looks above its vessel,
this is your soul, your essence, your virtue.

In many of the religions,
it is all the same.

A name lives and dies,
to find the being who decides your fate.

Your physical life is not all you have,
it carries on in the Eternal.

So live not in every moment,
but also do good or you're sent to The Inferno.
